Prelude: O God Beyond All Praising

Congregational Confession of Sin: O God of our comfort, You heal our wounds and take up our cause with our enemies. Our nation is fracturing before our eyes as our neighbors drink at the polluted wells of humanism and secularism and take counsel from priests who tell of a way of peace that leads only to war. We pray that You would rise up and stop this madness and steer our nation away from the brink of disaster. Where we have added to the confusion we ask for Your forgiveness and that You would bring us back to a place of holy repose in You. For we ask it in Jesus' name and for His sake we pray. Amen. (Let us confess our sins to the Lord in a moment of silent confession)

Words of Consolation

Hymn: #410 "Take Me, O My Father"

Congregational Reading: Irish Articles of Faith

Of the Fall of Man, Original Sin, and the State of Man Before Justification:

Original sin standeth not in the imitation of Adam (as the Pelagians dream), but is the fault and corruption of the nature of every person that naturally is engendered and propagated from Adam: whereby it cometh to pass that man is deprived of original righteousness, and by nature is bent unto sin. And therefore, in every person born into the world, it deserveth God's wrath and damnation.

Congregational Reading: Westminster Larger Catechism

Question 2: How doth it appear that there is a God?

Answer: The very light of nature in man, and the works of God, declare plainly that there is a God; but his word and Spirit only do sufficiently and effectually reveal him unto men for their salvation.

Newer Testament Reading: 1 John 3:10-15

Congregational Response: It is good for me that I have been afflicted, That I may learn Your statutes."

Psalm 119:71
